Four very short years ago we, two hundred forty-nine young and frightened individuals, registered as freshmen, anxious to begin our high school career. Miss Dodd and Miss Schroepel came to our rescue and very ably helped us make adjustments to our new and strange surroundings. After we became sufficiently acquainted to call each other by name we elected Albert Bethel, president; Irene Jokerst, vice president; Doris Bieser, secretary; and Bill Shea, treasurer of our class.

With October came all the weird ghosts and goblins and with them the traditional freshman Hallowe'en party.

During the formal ceremony of the crowning of the football queen, popular Loretta Metzger served as third maid of honor.

Jimmy Condometti earned a varsity letter in track during this year, a rare achievement for a neophyte.

Tempus fugit! We began our sophomore year with more poise and self-assurance, for we were no longer unaccustomed to our environs. And weren't we proud that now we were allowed to sit in the opera seats during assemblies!

This year Orville Heinicke was elected class president; John Taylor, vice president; Josephine Tonso, secretary; and Saleska Pederzolli, treasurer.

Miss Brede replaced Miss Dodd as one of our class sponsors. Miss Schroepel carried on from last year.

Because our social as well as our scholastic activities must be developed, all the sophomores gathered in the gym on February 13 for the annual dance, the Valentine party.

Interest in football was heightened by the fact that such athletes as Paul Pfaff, Wilfrid Hess, Albert Bethel, Melburn Haneline, Bill Shea, Bob Greaves,

Seniors

Jack Bohnenstiehl, and Lew Taggart were on the team.

Bill Shea, Kenny Bloomer, Orville Heinicke, Russ Giger, and Norman Paul represented us actively on the basketball floor.

Norm Paul and Kenny Bloomer earned letters in tennis during this year.

While our interests in athletics and social life were being cultivated, Estelle Christopher and Bob Greaves upheld our fine scholastic standing. These two people had received straight "A's" since they had entered high school.

Tempus fugit! Even though half of our high school days were gone, pleasant memories would always remain.

Miss Weber was appointed as one of our class sponsors for this year.

The first action taken by the class as juniors was the election of class officers. Paul Pfaff, president; Kenneth La Surs, vice president; Regina Wenzel, secretary; and Deloris Block, treasurer, were elected to serve us for this year.

The social highlight of the year, the coronation of the football queen, took place in the football bowl the evening of the twelfth of October. Lovely Doris Bieser, escorted by Paul Pfaff, was second maid of honor as representative of our class.

On March 19 the juniors held a lively and gay class party in the gym. The greater part of the evening was spent in dancing.

Dramatic talents were displayed with our class presentation of "Remember the Day," on December first and second.

Then came the incident we had been dreaming about since we were freshmen, the junior-senior prom! On May 6 the upper-classmen entered the gym which was hardly recognizable, for it had been transformed into the garden of a Southern mansion. Dancing to the tuneful music of Boots Wilhawk's orchestra was the principal entertainment of the evening.

Paul Pfaff, a star football player since his freshman days, was elected football captain for the '38 season. Paul was also named on the all-conference football team and Lew Taggart received honorable mention.

Orville Heinicke was elected captain of the basketball team for the '38-'39 season.

In tennis Norm Paul and Kenny Bloomer again earned letters. Bill Shea and Russ Giger were also given letters for their fine work on the courts.

Tempus fugit! On September first, one hundred eighty-six "would-be" sophisticated seniors entered this, our last year in C.T.H.S., with the desire to make it the most pleasant and memorable of our high school career.

To guide us through the year Ray Castello was elected president; Frank Smith, vice president; and Emil Bietchert, secretary-treasurer.

On the afternoon of November 23 the heralding of trumpets announced the coming of the new football queen, charming and vivacious Irene Jokerst, escorted by Captain Pfaff.

That evening, Thanksgiving Eve, the annual class party was held. Dancing was the principal entertainment.

Orville Heinicke was awarded a berth as guard on the All-Conference basketball team, and Kenny Bloomer gained honorable mention as forward.

Miss Weber and Miss Brede, with the aid of Mr. Koelling, have very ably guided us through the year.

The annual home-coming dance, class play, junior-senior prom, and hobo day brought this year almost to a close.

Commencement is the final school activity of the seniors. Whether we enter college or go into the business world, we are approaching new fields of opportunities. These ventures may be more successful because of our activities in high school, both academic and extra-curricular. To the juniors we leave our scholastic and athletic abilities. May they use them wisely and well!

Junior History

ON August 31 the juniors re-entered school to resume their studies. This class chose James Taggart, Harry McFarlane, Ralph Folkerts, Billy Garrett, and Paul Hadfield for their officers. These efficient members directed the activities of the class of '40 under the guidance of Mrs. Pinkel, Miss Jones, and Mr. Wright.

After everybody was back in the harness, the football ticket sales campaign started. The class of '40 came out of this scrimmage in second place. Nancy Kalbfleisch, their candidate for football queen, was first maid of honor.

The worthies who subjected themselves to the punishment and glories of the football field were James Taggart, Irl Edwards, Bertram Toon, Fred Meurer, Thomas Savage, Ulondo DeMoro, Elmer Schiller, and Billy Garrett, all stout-hearted fellows.

Then came the miracle! "Spring Fever" in December. "Spring Fever" was the class play given on December 7 and 8, and it proved at least one thing: that "Spring Fever" in December, as interpreted by the junior class, can be a very successful disease.

Basketball came next to take up time and thought. Leo Dallape, Harry McFarlane, Tom Savage, Billy Garrett, and Jimmy Hicks were those who helped to give the junior class its name in basketball.

The class party was held on St. Patrick's Day, March 17. Music, refreshments, and high spirits each contributed toward making this event successful.

The Prom was the social highlight of the year. The dance is the annual formal party given by the juniors for the senior class. This promenade was a most memorable event.

Sophomore History

THE YEARS in high school pass swiftly and in many ways each one is similar to the others. It is only by gathering up small characteristic odds and ends of events and happenings that we, the sophomore class, hope to build up a general impression which will distinguish this year in some manner from other years.

A class reputation depends largely upon its individual students, and we desire that our achievements may command due respect and admiration. Bill Glant is the chief executive of our class. The Valentine Party, planned under his direction, was one of the most successful events of the year. Ted Hoerchler is vice president of the sophomore class. Ruth Spalding, secretary-treasurer, has served as an officer of our class for two years. These officers have been selected to guide us through the second year of high school and its activities.

Catherine Benson was nominated to represent our class during the football season. At the ceremony she was second maid of honor.

Elmer Oberto and Bob McLanahan earned letters in football this year, while Lloyd Cairns, Charles Nunning, and Hubert Thomas were always ready when help was needed. Whitchurch and Glant, playing with the varsity, Bitzer, Gillespie, Votik, Millice, Ward, Thomas, Cooper, and Gaither on the light-weight team looked after the interests of our class in basketball.

The class of 1941 aims to develop in its membership strong character and to establish perpetual bonds of friendship. While scholarship is stressed, the social side of our school life also is emphasized. Thus, at the end of our second year we are looking forward to the days to come, hoping that they will prove as interesting as our past two years.

Freshman History

ON September 1, two hundred and thirty-one freshmen entered high school and started on the long journey which would eventually end in graduation. Although many have had hardships, the majority of the students have been successful and now, as we look back upon the first year of our high school life, we feel that we have just cause to be proud.

The president of the class was Arthur Capstick, who was assisted by Jane Davis as vice president and Harry Boyer as secretary-treasurer. Ida Dallape and Dale Nicol were on the executive committee. The sponsors chosen were Miss Quernheim, Miss Petitti, and Mr. Friedli.

During the latter part of October the traditional Freshman Hallowe'en party was held in the gym. Most of those attending masqueraded. Dancing was the principal amusement of those present. Refreshments were served.

The next big event in the activities of the class was the coronation of the football queen. Petite Elizabeth Monroe represented the freshman class. She was the third maid of honor. Elizabeth wore a dress of white net trimmed with blue velvet ribbons. She carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The following boys represented the class on the football field: John Cobetto, Vernon Frost, John Christe, Henry Eversmann, Larry Beard, Dale Hoga, Donald Clark, and Bill Jessup.

Those who were prominent in basketball are: Milan Fischer, Bob Sheffield, Larry Beard, Lester Keller, and Vernon Frost.

In addition to these activities the class was well represented in the fields of music and drama, and attempted to maintain a high scholastic standard throughout the year.

Honor Society

MEMBERSHIP in the Collinsville chapter of the National Honor Society is a recognition of outstanding achievement in both scholarship and conduct. This year the society chose as its officers Russel Giger, president; Rollin Barton, vice president; Saleska Pederzolli, secretary; Irene Jokerst, treasurer.

Each year the society awards a scholarship to a college student who needs some financial assistance. The money for this scholarship is raised by means of a jamboree, held this year on November 15. The jamboree is a carnival which consists of many different concessions and its main feature, a rollicking, amusing minstrel show in which students and teachers take part.

A few weeks before the new members of the Honor Society are chosen, students review a set of rules which explains to them what the Honor Society stands for and how the members may be chosen. On February 21 the new members including ten percent of the senior class and five percent of the junior class were inducted into the society. These able students are elected by the faculty. Their choice is based on the four qualities: high scholarship, outstanding service, constructive leadership and fine character.

The annual honor day program, which usually occurs the last week in May, is sponsored by the society. On this day those students who are outstanding in athletics, music, dramatics, journalism, and other club and organization activities are honored.

Student Council

THE Student Council is a governing body which is responsible for student conduct in the school as a community. It is a member of a national organization. The Collinsville chapter was the first in the locality to begin an organization of this sort. A constitution was drawn up which has been copied by many student councils in the surrounding districts.

This year the council chose as its leaders Tom Smith, president; Bette Benson, vice president; Martha Jane McCormick, secretary; Margie Bitzer, assistant-secretary.

Bette Benson, Martha Jane McCormick, Olive Walker, Shirley Jean Davis, and Margie Bitzer were delegates to the district convention held at Dupou, Ill.

In order to defray necessary expenses the council sponsored several dances and a "manufacturers' dinner" which was most successful.

This year the council chose Bette Benson, Martha Jane McCormick, Tom Smith, and Billy Jessup as its representatives to the state convention held at Peoria, Ill., on March 31 and April 1.

The most important function of this organization is the patrol of the halls. Students are stationed in the halls each period of the day to prevent loitering and unnecessary noises.

The arrangements for the football coronation, the annual Christmas party, and assembly programs contributed to the success of the council. With Miss Renfro and Mr. Heinicke as its able sponsors, the council anxiously looks forward to another successful year.

Kahokian Staff

THE Kahokian is an annual publication compiled and edited by students. The majority of the staff members are retained from last year's staff. Additional members may be added by means of try-outs. These try-outs are themes which are written by students and judged by the faculty advisers and editor.

The purpose of this organization is to present a realistic picture of the school year. The Kahokian records all phases of student activities, extra-curricular projects, and social functions, with the hope that, in years to come, they will bring back yearning memories. Work on the annual also provides practical experience for students who plan to work in the field of journalism.

This year a new system of awarding pins was used. For each assigned duty the various staff members received points whereby they could earn a pin. This system was devised by the editor, Saleska Pederzolli, and assistant editor, Margie Bitzer.

All the work was under the supervision of Miss Doty, Mrs. Swank, and Mr. Hale. Miss Doty, in addition to her job as supervisor of the art staff, was also chosen chairman of the organization. Mrs. Swank directed the typists and Mr. Hale was in charge of the financial management. The helpful advice given by these sponsors was indispensable to the staff members.

The Chanticleer

THE CHANTICLEER was produced this year through the efforts of approximately thirty-nine students under the guidance of the faculty sponsors, Mr. Monroe and Miss Petitti. The work was done entirely by the staff headed by Olive Walker as editor-in-chief, Mildred Bridges and Margaret Cunningham as business managers, Estelle Christopher and Doris Zirges in charge of the circulation, and Saverio De Moro in charge of the art work. The articles were contributed and written by students on the staff. The Chanticleer was issued bi-weekly throughout the year and was printed by the typing and mimeograph staff.

The outstanding event of the year was the meeting of the Southern Illinois High School Press Conference which was held at the Collinsville High School on October 29. Representatives of high school newspapers from many of the towns in this section attended the meeting and took part in the various activities. Each department conducted its own panel discussion under the leadership of those in charge of the respective departments of the Chanticleer. The day's program included a dinner and a dance as well as business meetings.

Library Club

THE first Library Club was organized and supervised by the school librarian, Miss Dorothy Eckart, in 1932. At first only junior and senior girls were eligible for membership. The student's scholastic record is checked upon before admittance into the organization. Thus, good grades as well as good conduct and personality are the requirements for membership.

The purpose of the club is to enable its members to serve the school by keeping the library in order and preparing the books before they are shelved. Each member is assigned a period during which he assists the librarian at the desk. Members assist Miss Eckart in giving freshmen and sophomores lessons which deal with the use of the card catalogue, the classification and location of books on the shelves, and the use of the dictionary. Freshmen are not admitted to the club. The meetings are held during home room period.

This year the club entertained all its alumni members with a lively Christmas party during the holidays. The annual Valentine party was enjoyed by all the club members. This year pins were awarded to the members for the first time. For the current year the Library Club chose as its officers Anna Vaia, president; Delores Wendt, vice president and treasurer.

Latin-German Club

PHI EPSILON started the year with an election of the following officers: Dorothy Mae Kloess, consul; Doris Mae Miller, vice consul; Ted Hoerchler, ianitor. This organization is made up entirely of Latin students and with the freshmen members, sixteen new students were initiated.

At the first meeting of "Der Deutsche Verein," a new organization, Estelle Christopher was elected president; Marceline Fritz, vice president; Robert Hicks, secretary-treasurer. Membership in this organization includes only those students studying German, and this year found ten "heinies" seeking admission. In search of a change from the daily routine of life, the members gave a party on the night of December 14.

The "heinies" presented a puppet show entitled "Faust" on April 13 and 14. The dialogue of the play was spoken in German. The cast was as follows: director, Ralph Folkerts; Kasper, Eleanor Kreider; Faust alt and Faust jung, Erika Birke; Mephisto, Charles Brooks; Gretchen, Bessie Birke; night watchman, Wallace Jobusch; child, Dorothy Dieu; stage hand, Dick Grieve; and stage manager, Eleanor Kreider.

Miss Brede is the sponsor of these organizations.

Kahoklan

THE Kahoklan, which is sometimes called the "C" Club, offers membership to any boy who has proved his athletic ability by earning a varsity letter in football, basketball, track, tennis, or as an athletic manager.

The organization was founded at C. T. H. S. in 1932. Its main purpose is to place all of the athletes in one distinct group.

One of the outstanding features of this club is its cooperative spirit. This year the lettermen rendered a service to the community by assisting in the annual Easter Egg Hunt and the Community Hallowe'en Party, both sponsored by the local Lions Club. They also assisted with the Community Christmas Party and the Christmas parade which was held through the efforts of the local merchants. The club is under the able direction of Mr. Fletcher, one of the athletic coaches.

This year Paul Pfaff, football captain for the 1938 season, was chosen president. Jack Bohnenstiehl, an outstanding athlete in football, tumbling, and track; and Frank Smith, a dependable and capable manager, were elected vice president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

The Hiking Club

THE HIKING CLUB at Collinsville Township High School is a young organization, started in the spring of 1938 by a group of girls under the sponsorship of Miss Jones. The purpose of the club was to interest girls in hiking as a recreational activity.

These girls established a five-mile hike as a prerequisite for active membership. The club was opened to all girls who cared to qualify. Their activities consisted of pot-luck suppers, wiener roasts, and short hikes. The hikes were to various points of interest near Collinsville: Monk's Mound, the Sandbands, and Bethel School.

This year there are approximately forty-five members in the Hiking Club. As a result of the election held in the fall Betty Holt was chosen president; Betty Arth, vice president; Helen Anthony, secretary; Marguerite Sullivan treasurer; and Irene Kunnemann, point captain.

During the school year, members selected a pin for the Hiking Club. It is a small purple and white shield to which numbers are attached. The embossed gold letters represent Collinsville Hiking Society.

Junior Promenade

Class of 1939

ON the evening of May 6, 1938, the class of '39 feted the class of '38 with a formal dance. The dance was held in the gym which had been transformed into a beautiful southern plantation setting. The guests entered the south end of the gym, which was ornamented by the appearance of a high stone wall, through an archway of willow boughs. The orchestra played from the porch of a southern plantation home. Lawn chairs were conveniently set about the gym floor which represented the plantation.

Paul Pfaff, the class president of '39, and Grace Kurtz led the grand march to the lilting strains of "Stars Fell on Alabama." Dancing under the sparkling stars followed immediately. In keeping with the dreamy southland theme, a very colorful floor show was presented by students assisted by some professionals.

Beneath a magnolia-covered well cool punch was served throughout the evening to girls dressed in filmy pastel gowns escorted by their proud admirers.

When the clock struck twelve, Boots Wilhauk played "Good Night Sweetheart," and all the little "Cinderellas" dashed home followed by their "Prince Charmings."

The success of this affair was due to the combined efforts of the students and the class sponsors, Miss Brede and Miss Weber, along with the kind assistance of Miss Doty and Miss Steiner.

Chorus

THE High School Chorus aims to give pleasure and relaxation to its members. The chorus, which gives invaluable experience in group singing, stimulates interest in music. If music be the expression of the soul, then hear those eighty voices express their feelings!

The chorus, under the direction of Mr. Albert Friedli, elected Bess Rainboldt, president; Margie Bitzer, vice president; Regina Wenzel, secretary-treasurer. The accompanists were Elizabeth Monroe and Regina Wenzel.

The cantata "In Excelsis," by Elsie D. Yale and J. Lincoln Hall, was the first activity of the season. It was presented on December 22 and 27.

Many members of the chorus participated in the annual intellectual contest on February 23.

At Edwardsville the organization took part in a music festival directed by the internationally famous Noble Cain. About five hundred people made up the composite chorus.

The chorus has increased in number, improved in quality, and the members of the organization sincerely hope that it may continue its progress in years to come.

THE CHORUS chose for its annual operetta "The Chimes of Normandy," by Robert Planquette, under the direction of Mr. Friedli and Margie Bitzer, student director.

The scene of the operetta is set in Corneville, Normandy, during the late seventeenth century. The annual fair, when the servants offer their services to the landowners, is in progress. During the first scene, the village gossips are discussing the latest scandal when Serpolette, the madcap, comes in and turns the gossip of the girls into rage because of her taunting statements.

Gaspard, an old miser, is the uncle of Germaine, the heroine, whom he wishes to marry to the Magistrate of the village, the Bailli. Germaine, however, is in love with Grenicheux, a young sailor who pretends that he has saved her from the fate of drowning.

Henri, the Count de Corneville, who has been an exile, returns to the village. He hears the legend of the old castle that the bells will not ring until the rightful owner returns. It is believed the place is haunted because lights flash at the windows near midnight, and Henri decides to investigate.

Meanwhile Germaine, taking advantage of the privilege given to the peasants, hires herself out to one of the townsmen in an attempt to escape the Bailli. Her example is followed by both Serpolette and Grenicheux.

The curious Count Henri, in the course of his investigation, finds the alarming sights in the castle have been caused by Gaspard, who has been keeping his treasures there. This discovery drives the miser crazy, especially after he hears the bells ringing for the first time since the flight of old Marquis de Lucenay, the friend of the Count.

An old document belonging to the Marquis is found which states that his daughter has been entrusted to the care of Gaspard. Serpolette claims to be the maiden in question, but it turns out that Germaine is the real Marchioness and that Henri and not Grenicheux has saved her from drowning. At the conclusion of the play Henri and Germaine are married.

Band

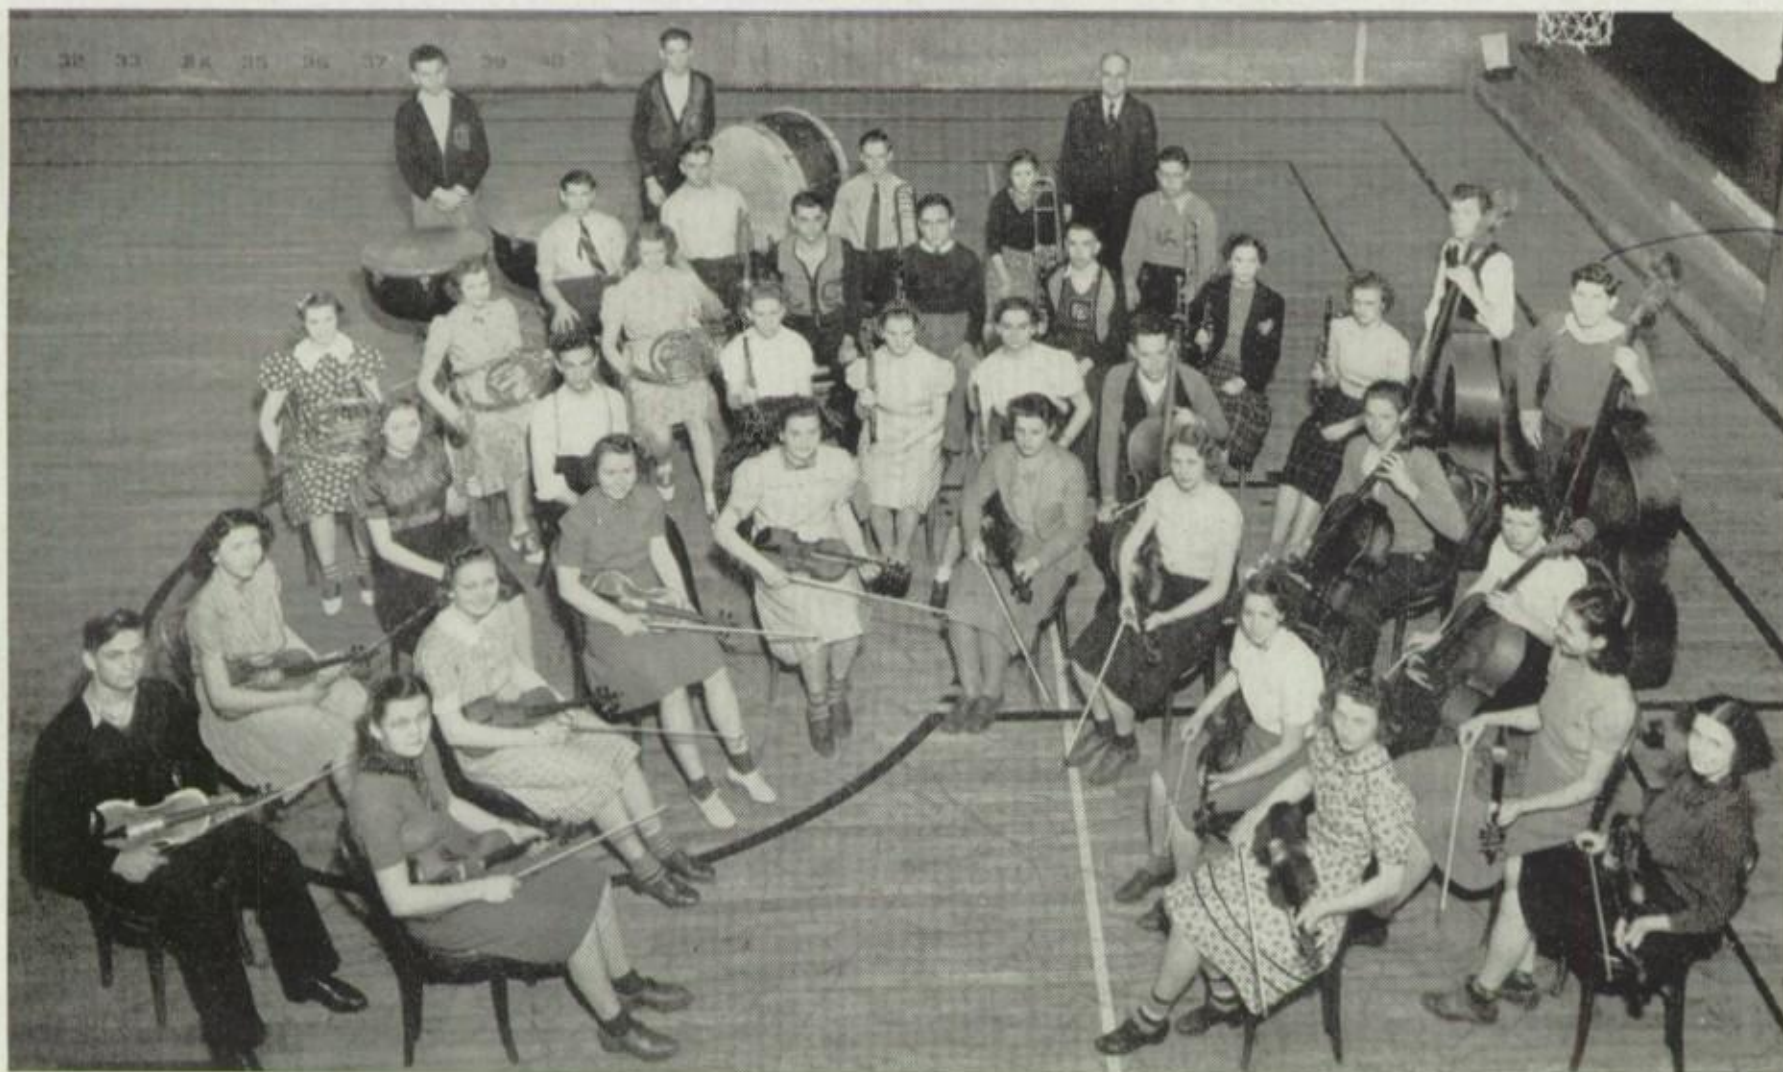

THE BAND returned from Elkhart, Ind., last May as national champions. The victorious bandsmen settled down immediately to prepare for the summer concerts.

During the football season the members of the band learned numerous field formations for all the games. Following the execution of these formations, the drum major presented his traditional Indian dance. With the football season coming to an end the band played for the basketball games. Several vesper concerts were given throughout the winter at school on Sundays.

Twenty-two of the twenty-eight bandsmen who competed in the district solo contest at Greenfield on March 11 received first rating.

The increased enrollment of our high school has placed the band in Class A. For the first time it competed in this class in the annual district contest held at Greenfield on April 1 and won a first-place rating. In consequence the band was entitled to participate in the annual state contest which was held at Centralia this year on April 29. The band won first rating there and was entitled to enter the Regional Contest at Little Rock, Ark., where it won first honors, superior rating.

Orchestra

THE C. T. H. S. Orchestra is under the baton of "Prof.", Mr. Kreider. There are thirty-eight members in this musical organization, most of them also being members of the high school band. The majority of the students play at least two instruments; they play a brass or reed instrument in the band and a string instrument in the orchestra. This year the orchestra rehearsed on Wednesday evenings after school, and the band rehearsed on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

In spite of the fact that string instruments are difficult to master, the orchestra has won many honors since its organization. The group received a "superior" rating at the Washington University annual contest and in the district and state contests, all in 1938.

This year the orchestra has spent its time in the development of technique and hence has not participated in any contests. It contributed its share of entertainment at the evening session of the intellectual contest.

The majority of the members of this organization will be back next year to perfect the 1940 orchestra.

Thespian Society

THE Collinsville Chapter of the Thespian Society is part of an honorary national dramatic organization, the purpose of which is "To create a spirit of active and intelligent interest in dramatics among boys and girls of our secondary schools."

Each unit of the society is called a Thespian Troupe and is assigned a charter number. A Thespian Troupe is always an educational club which consists of a group of students who form an inner circle among the participants in the high school dramatic program. Because the students have met certain qualifications, are deserving, dependable, and have shown genuine interest in dramatics, they have been privileged to become members of the national society. They are under oath to assist the director of dramatics in every way possible with the production of plays, with the management of the regular dramatic clubs, and with all such other activities of a dramatic nature in which their cooperation and services are needed.

At the head of the troupe is the student president. In the initiation ceremony, the student president serves as Stage Manager. The troupe chose Felicitas Schmacker to execute the duties of this office. Margie Bitzer was vice president and Martha Jane McCormick, secretary.

This year the organization produced four one-act plays: "Sky Fodder," by Reynolds; "Strange Road," by Houston; "Undertow," by Weatherly, and "The Marriage Proposal," by Tchekhov. Out of this group one, "Undertow," was chosen to represent C. T. H. S. in the dramatic sectional contest at Carbondale.

Little Theater

THE Little Theater is a student organization of C. T. H. S. The aim of this group is to stimulate interest in all phases of dramatics. This organization is just what its name implies, a "little theater."

The crew is the name given to that group of students who build the scenery for all the plays given during the school year. Dorothy Dressel, Edna Speck, Ray Castello, Walter Holtgreve, Ronald Glant, Genevieve Galinat, Marguerite Sullivan, Joan Bernasco, Dorothy Mersinger, Blanche Witschie, Robert Bates, and Leslie Sutton are members of the crew.

Little Theater try-outs are held only once a year. Those who try out are judged by all members of the organization with the assistance of Mr. Blazek, the sponsor. The membership is limited to fifty members.

Those students who were elected officers and assured the success of the Little Theater season were: Charles Maurer, president; Avery Hiken, vice president; Vernell Hanvey, secretary-treasurer.

In the late autumn a dance was held at school to initiate the newly elected members.

Intellectual Contest

THE Collinsville Study Club annually sponsors a contest in which all students interested in speech, voice, and piano participate. The students gaining first-place honors in the local contest continue the competition in the sub-district, district, and state contests if they are fortunate enough to be winners.

THE action of the play, "Spring Dance," takes place in an exclusive girls' school in the East, during the week-end of their spring party. Instead of the usual boy-chases-girl method, the situation is reversed. The co-eds, friends of Alex, set out to capture Sam, to prevent him from leaving for Russia with the woman-hater, Lippincott. The whole scheme is planned and carried on without Alex's knowledge. Professor Beckett brings things to a climax when he takes matters into his own hands, because, as he says, "the scientific way is the easiest way."

THE junior class presented its annual play under the direction of Mr. Blazek with Margie Bitzer, student director, December 7 and 8.

"Spring Fever" is a comedy about college students who live at a rooming house. Burns, a chemistry student, causes frequent explosions. Another student, Brant, is working desperately hard because of a term paper. Mr. Purcell, who is to endow a new science building for the college, withdraws his offer. Through a misunderstanding, his sense of dignity was injured by Lewis, an art student. Brant's Aunt Maude comes to see him graduate. On learning of his failure she decides to pose as a zoologist to influence Professor Bean to pass the boy. Ann, aided by Lewis, who poses as a doctor, stages a deathbed scene to influence Mr. Purcell to reconsider and give the science building to the college. Everything turns out all right in the end. Brant receives his diploma and the college its new building.

Drama

One-Act Plays

THE Little Theatre and Thespian Society presented four one-act plays on April 11, under the direction of Mr. Blazek. The judges, Mrs. J. F. Snodgras, Mrs. J. C. Wallace, and Mr. John Monroe, selected "Undertow" to be sent to compete in the dramatic sectional contest.

SKY-FODDER

Rogers.....Robert Buckman Neal.....John Simon
Drew.....Harvey Galloway

"Sky-Fodder," an unusual play written by Reynolds, is the story of three men whose airplane crashed in the swamps of Louisiana. After three days they returned to the wreckage only to find that they had been dead. The unique stage lighting increased the mysterious atmosphere of the oppressive swamps.

UNDERTOW

Rosalie.....Shirley Jean Davis Miss Mary Ann...Dolores Biggins
Mrs. Grant.....Mildred Bridges Miss Susan.....Elvera Binning
Mrs. Kitzmuller.....Juanita Busiere Mrs. Stickner.....Deloris Block

"Undertow," by Weatherly, is a tense psychological play centered around two sisters, Abby and Rosalie. Ever since Rosalie's marriage to an engineer whom Abby loved, Abby has harbored an intense hatred for Rosalie. The play almost ends in tragedy when Abby tries to kill Rosalie with an overdose of sleeping powder.

STRANGE ROAD

Mrs. Talbot.....Margaret Sherman Annie Kadan.....Margie Bitzer
Mrs. Kadan.....Mary Jane Rankin Allan Talbot.....Bill Stanton

"Strange Road," by Houston, is a mystical play. Allan, a dreamer, is considered a ne'er-do-well by the inhabitants of the seacoast village. He loves Annie whose mother constantly condemns him.

At the moment of Allan's heroic death, he is personified in Annie's mind through the strength of their love while she stands alone in the Talbot Cottage. Their conversation about his departure to new worlds, where he will find success, creates the action of the play.

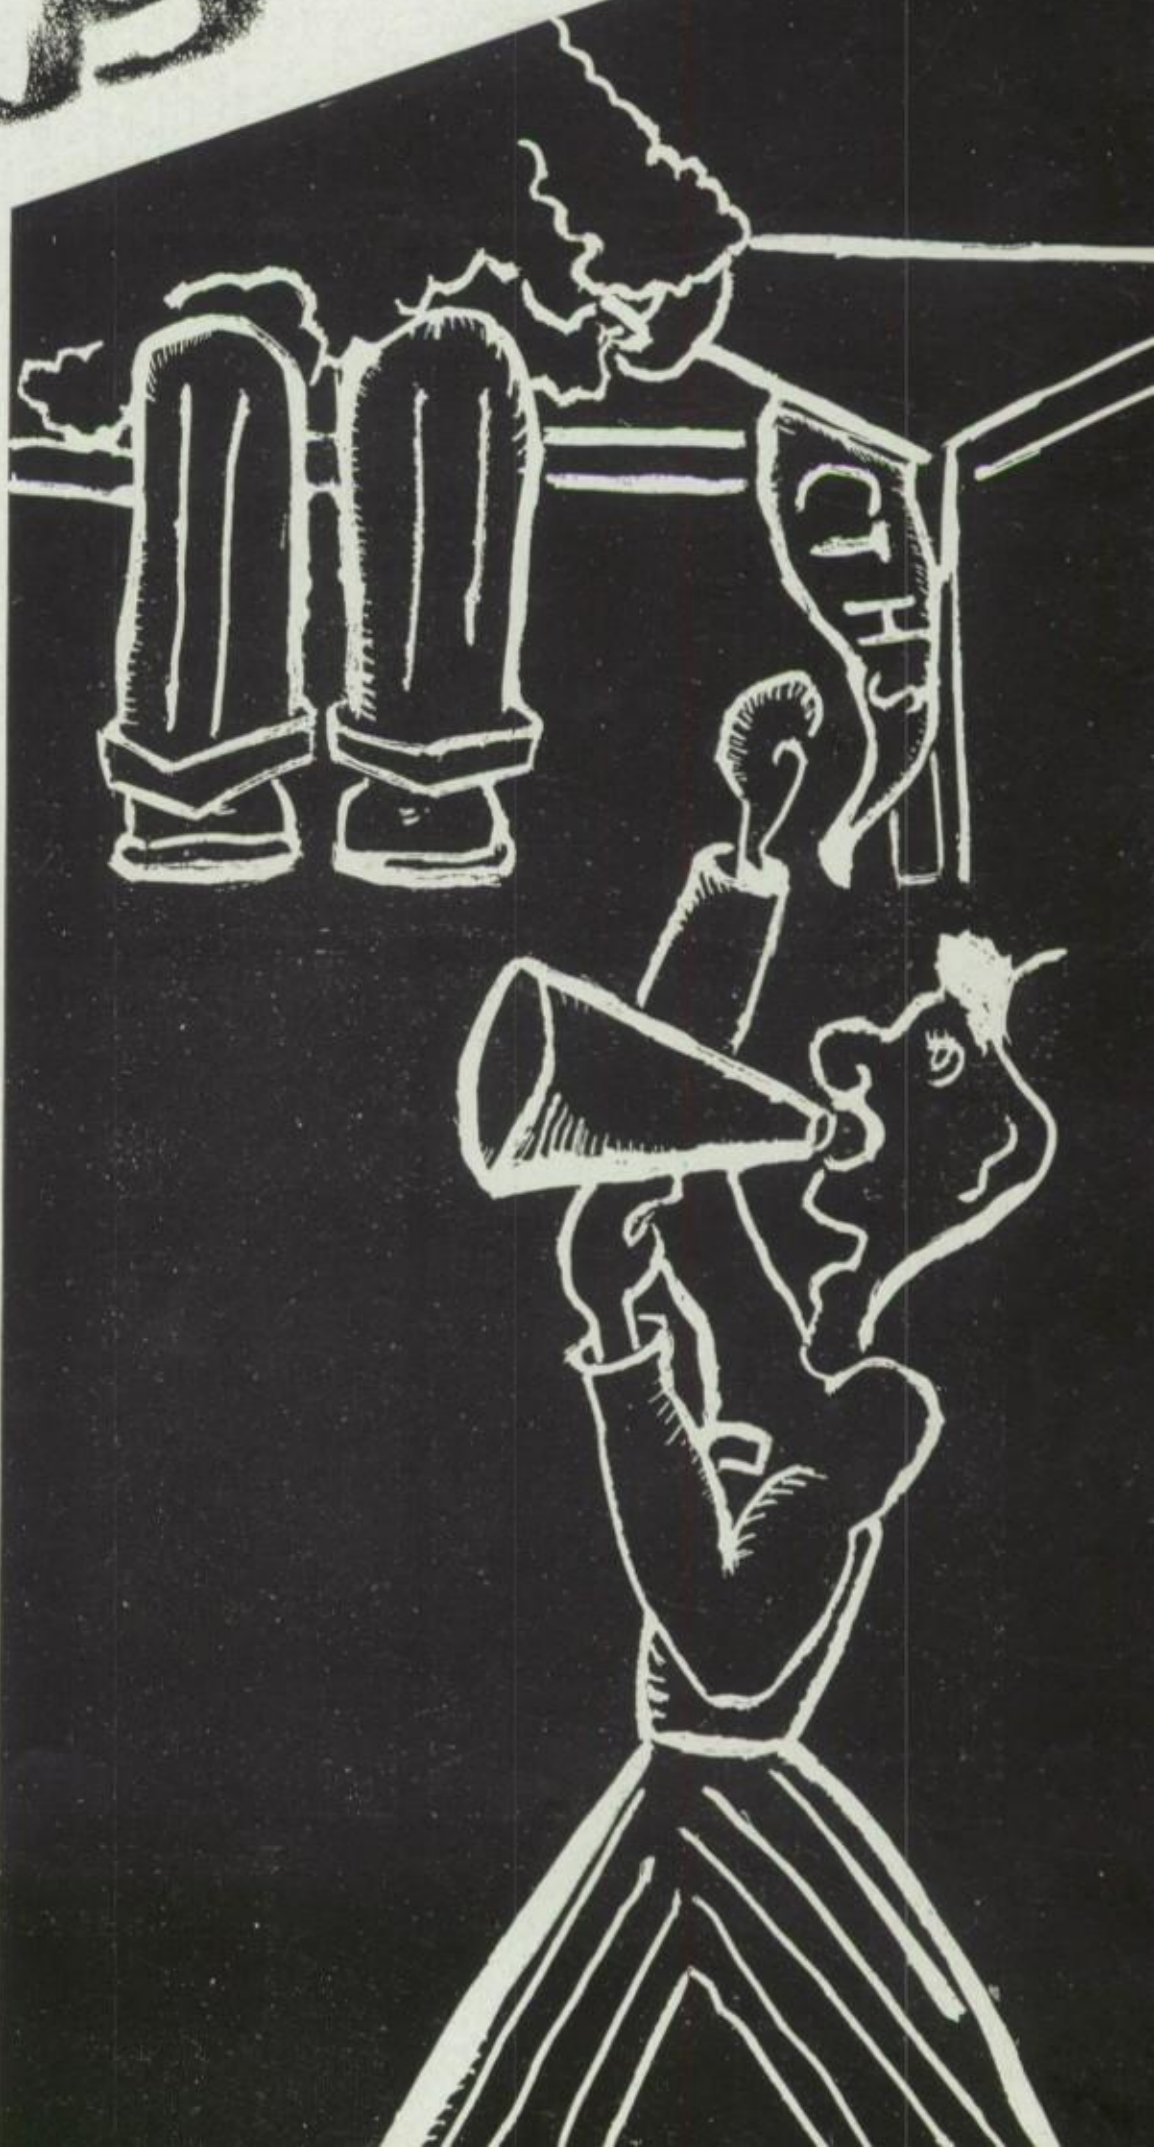

MARRIAGE PROPOSAL

Ivan Vassylich..Lawrence McKurtis Stephan Lomov.....Charles Maurer
Nathalia Stepanova...Ludovica Marchetti

"Marriage Proposal" is a comedy by Tchekhov. Stephan's visit to Nathalia is prompted by his desire of marriage. He never accomplishes his purpose because they are entangled in heated arguments. He departs, but Nathalia, learning of his desire, demands his return. Though their argument continues, they are brought together by her father.

Our Managers

There once were five managers
From C. T. H. S.

The better have yet to be seen.

They could rub,

They could wrap,

They could paint,

They could even give salts for a faint.

But when "Mac" got his bottles,

And Paoli his kit,

The people went wild, or their sides
they did split.

To see "Snuff" with his box was a scream,

But the people thought "Perce" was a dream.

You can guess all the rest,

For Hess was a mess,

As the managers oft' fought with the

We're the Kahoks bold, and we're from dear old Collinsville,
Loyal to our school we fight with all our might and will.

Fight, boys, we're all behind you,
We'll cheer you on as you fight to victory, most glorious victory.
Onward to battle, Kahoks, fight for your school and fellows,
Honor and glory shall be yours.

As those tom-toms beat,
We clap our hands,
We stamp our feet!
Shouting out your praise,
Let Kahoks all their voices raise—Hi!

Hip! Hip! Hurray!
Make our foeman play,
We want a scalp for Collinsville!

On to victory let us wend our way,
And let us always say
Our team will win today.
YELL: Fight! Fight! Fight!
Keep the spirit of our Kahoks bold,
And let our motto be clean victory.
YELL: Rah! Rah! Rah!
Collinsville, we fling your banner high,
We praise you far and near,
Praise you our Kahoks dear,
Together here we stand like warriors
of the past,
To battle for our school until the last.

PFAFF—Paul, this year's captain, did some fine work in the line. He was an excellent tackle and won a berth on the second all-conference team. He will be missed next year.

HEINICKE—"Jug's" injury in the first part of the season kept him from playing for awhile, but he came back with much vim and vigor. "Orv" also won a berth on the second all-conference team.

TAGGART—Lew was an excellent tackle who hit very hard.

SHEA—"Bill," an end who came through in tight pinches.

RAY—John started the season in the line but ended up as a hard-driving backfield man.

BOHNENSTIEHL—Jack was one of the spark plugs of the team. He drove through the line like a steam roller.

J. TAGGART—"Jim" played a whale of a game at center.

OBERTO—Elmer is just a sophomore but plays like a senior.

TOON—"Bert," although not as fast as War Admiral, could always be depended on.

HICKS—"Jim," a fast, shifty, hard-running, blocking back.

HESS—Wilfrid started as a fullback and ended up playing guard. He was usually very dependable.

HANELINE—"Boone" was set back with injuries but when he played everyone knew it.

SUBSTITUTES—There were many good substitutes who will be playing "regular" next year. Good luck to all and to all a good season next year.

Apptopos of the Gridiron

SPORT shots and spectacular play featured the competition this year. Championship hopes of several coaches and varsities were blasted. Intercepted passes were converted into important touchdowns, laterals were snatched, goal shots were muffed. Briefly, the round-up follows:

COLLINSVILLE 16—DUPO 0

The Kahoks found a soft spot. Nothing more than a scrimmage for Fletcher's boys.

CLEVELAND 39—COLLINSVILLE 6

First defeat of the season for the Kahoks.

BENLD 37—COLLINSVILLE 7

Those farmers could really go.

EAST ST. LOUIS 19—COLLINSVILLE 0

The Flyers were pushed to the last whistle.

WOOD RIVER 13—COLLINSVILLE 0

The Oilers stopped Orville Heinicke. Lawson Fletcher's Kahoks jarred in a surprise defeat.

UNIVERSITY CITY 32—COLLINSVILLE 0

The U. City boys trimmed the Kahoks. The Kahoks lacked "umph" in the backfield.

BELLEVILLE 31—COLLINSVILLE 0

The Maroons remained in the championship circle.

GRANITE CITY 20—COLLINSVILLE 6

The greatest game this year. Collinsville showed a great improvement. With Heinicke passing, Shea catching, Ray, Hicks, and Bohnenstiehl plunging, we made our first conference touchdown of the year.

ALTON 13—COLLINSVILLE 7

The Kahoks expected to score their initial victory in this number. They almost did it. Alton made a touchdown in the last two minutes of play.

EDWARDSVILLE 21—COLLINSVILLE 0

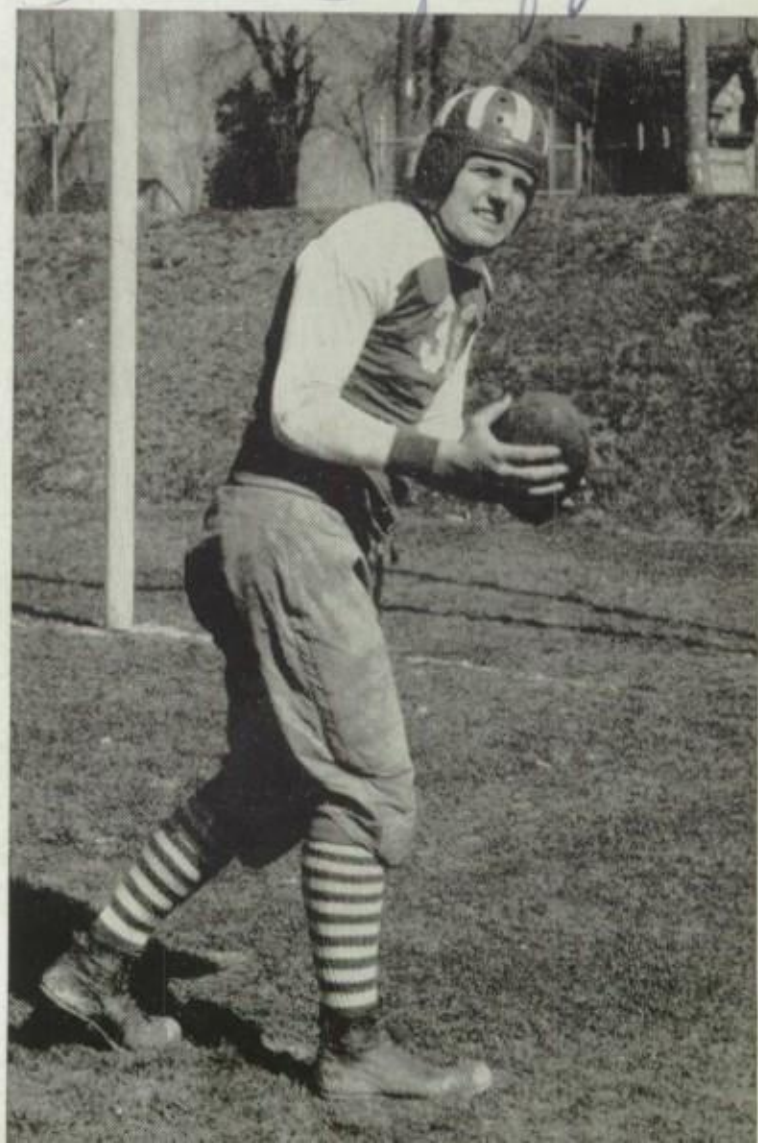

The Kahoks were unmercifully trampled by the Tigers. Henke led the Tigers' attack.

COLLINSVILLE 7—MADISON 0

The Kahoks defeated their co-occupants of the cellar position. The first, last, and only victory for the Kahoks.

And here we are at the end of the season, with only one conference victory. But, why gripe, each one did the best he could. The underclassmen will be out there fighting next year.

"For when the one great scorer comes
To write against your name,
He writes not that you won or lost,
But how you played the game."

Football Coronation

THE most dignified event of the year is the crowning of the queen. It is an event to which the entire school looks with eagerness and pride. This year was the loveliest of all.

The lights brightened, the noise died down to a hushed stillness, and from the west end of the gymnasium the trumpeters announced the arrival of the retiring queen to the Court of Honor. Ray Castello, the herald, summoned Miss Anne Gardner, the retiring queen for 1937 and 1938, to the throne. She was escorted to the throne by Louis Jackstadt, president and a member of the football team of the class of 1938. Miss Gardner was resplendent in an Empire style white silk jersey evening gown with matching accessories and silver slippers. Her bouquet was of white chrysanthemums.

With the same ceremony and at deliberate intervals the maids ascended the throne, each a finished portrait of a lady of fashion.

Miss Elizabeth Monroe, gowned in white net, was escorted by Russell Giger. Miss Monroe carried yellow chrysanthemums.

NANCY KALBFLEISCH, First Maid of Honor

ELIZABETH MONROE, Third Maid

CATHERINE BENSON, Second Maid

The next to enter was Miss Catherine Benson, a sophomore, escorted by Orville Heinicke. Miss Benson wore a peach chiffon gown and silver slippers. She carried burnt orange chrysanthemums to blend with the color of her gown.

Miss Nancy Kalbfleisch, the first maid of honor, looked charming in her periwinkle blue net made bolero style. She carried rust chrysanthemums and was escorted by Lew Taggart.

With much ceremony the trumpets sounded and the herald proclaimed Miss Irene Jokerst Queen of Love and Beauty for 1938 and 1939. All stood as a warm burst of applause broke out and the spotlight was turned on the new queen. Captain Paul Pfaff assisted Miss Jokerst to her throne. The queen-elect wore a gown of lustrous blue satin with a regal purple and white train.

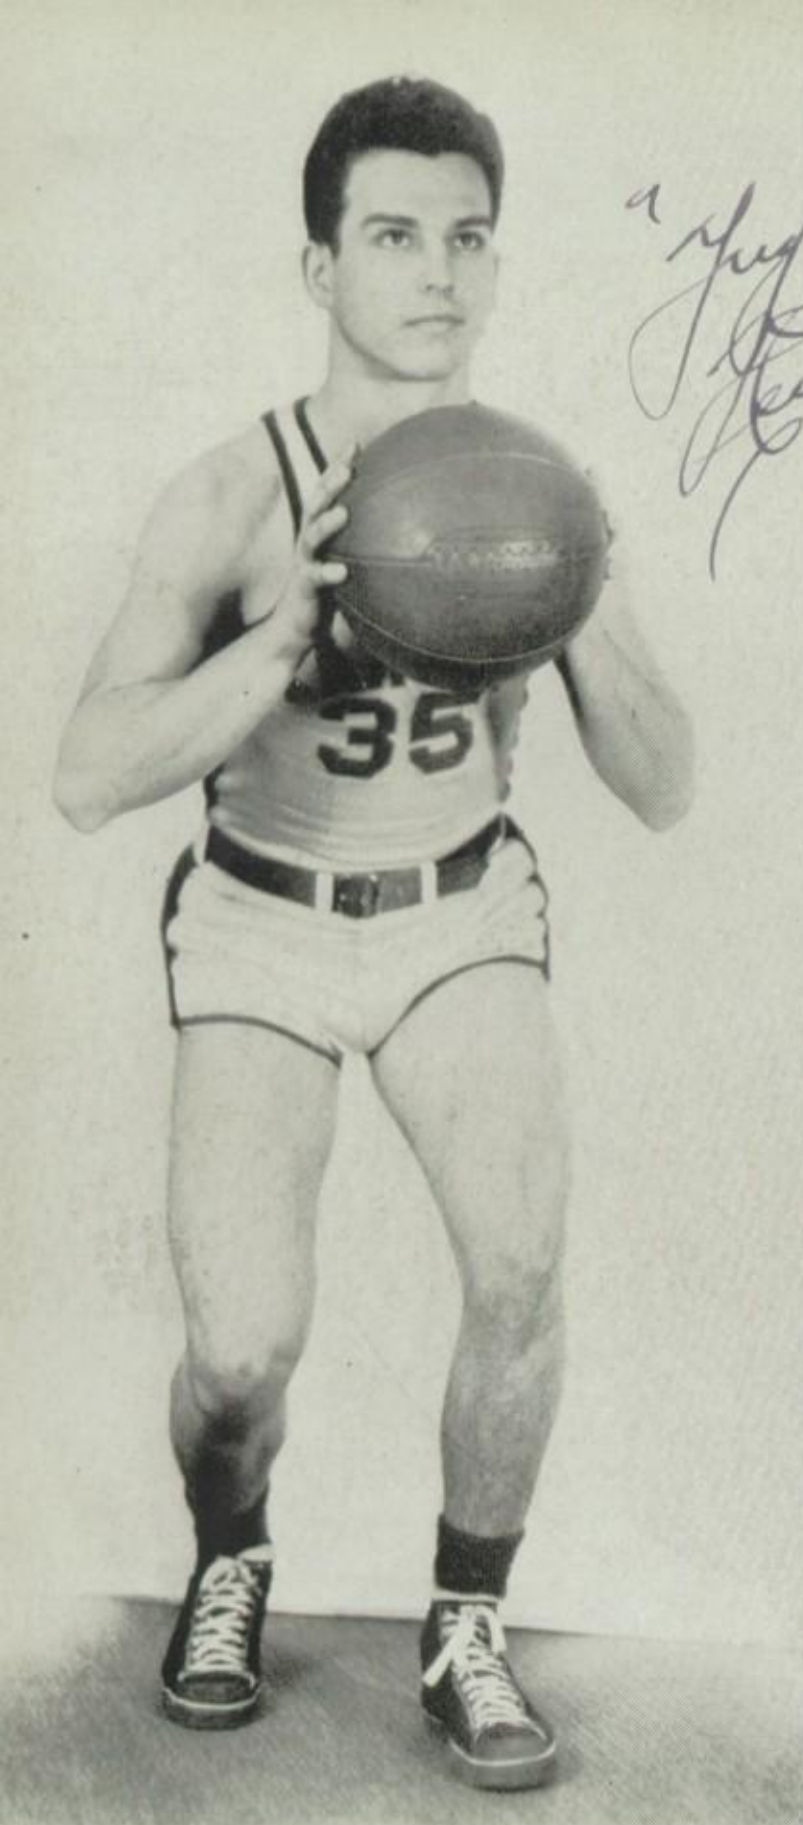

Donald Norton and Johnny Metternich received favorable comment as they approached the throne carrying the queen's train. Captain Paul Pfaff placed the crown upon Miss Jokerst and she took her place upon the throne.

Billy Hale carried gold footballs for the retiring queen and her successor and silver footballs for the three maids. Coach Lawson Fletcher presented them to the members of the court.

The first dance was reserved for the queen and her court of love and beauty.

SMALL BUT MIGHTY!

AS unplanned as a hiccup, Collinsville's Kahoks came out as wild Indians and got wilder as time went on. With magnificent running, stupendous shooting and spectacular ball handling, the Kahoks scalped many a team for second place in the Conference.

When a David fells a Goliath, it's a phenomenon for a number of years. But it is less likely that five Davids can down five Goliaths when they meet week after week. Collinsville came out as that David to defeat many a giant.

The Kahoks came through a very successful season and proceeded on to the tournaments where they made an even better name for themselves.

The Regional Tournament, which was held at Belleville, put the Kahoks to a very tough test. There they met Marissa, Belleville, and East St. Louis in four nights. Each of these teams had a very strong zone defense which was broken, but not very easily, by the hard-driving Indians.

As champions of the Regional Tournament the Kahoks went to what is probably the toughest Sectional Tournament in the state. With all their vim and vigor Collinsville broke the jinx by defeating Edwardsville. The next night they came back to defeat Witt and to enter the finals. In the final game against Wood River the Kahoks could not hit the basket and for this reason the Kahoks did not go to the State.

Collinsville was small but mighty!

Basketball Lettermen

HEINICKE—"Orv" played a bang-up game at guard. He made the all-conference team.

He was one of the most accurate long shots in the conference. With all his vim and vigor he led his team through a glorious season.

DALLAPE—Leo started as center but could play any position on the floor. He was second highest scorer in the conference and was chosen forward on the all-conference team.

BLOOMER—"Ken" with all his crazy hook shots was always cool and calm when a storm broke out. He was a hard-driving forward and an excellent defense man.

MCFARLANE—"Mac" although playing his first year as a regular was very dependable.

He played any position on the floor but usually started as forward. He'll be used to great advantage next year.

WHITCHURCH—"Pesty" never scored much but was always prepared to prevent someone else from scoring.

GIGER—"Russ" played an excellent game at guard and very often he broke through for baskets.

SHEA—"Bill" had the pep that keeps a team going. With all his fun he always came through with flying colors.

PAUL—"Norm," a smooth, shifty dribbler, played a good game at forward.

SAVAGE—"Tom," always a scrapper, got in there and fought for the team. He always managed to score a little.

THOMAS—"Posey," a hard-driving forward, came through with many a needed basket.

RAY—John, although not much of a scorer, played an excellent defensive game.

SMITH—"Smitty" was a very fast, shifty forward who played as a substitute. He was usually there when needed.

GLANT—Bill played an excellent floor game, and with more experience will be a dandy player.

Track

TRACK is a great tradition at Collinsville. Our athletic history is studded with achievements of many outstanding teams and individual performers who have carried the Purple and White all over the state.

This season we have to look to a small nucleus of experienced men, such as Jim Condometti, pole vault; Leo Dallape, javelin; Orville Heinicke, discus and shot put; Irl Edwards, dashes or half mile. New contenders who increase the strength of our squad eventually will be heard from, but they require seasoning. It may not be the best track team in the conference, but we can count on the members of the team to give their best.

The Kahoks under the able leadership of their coach, Allen Metternich, and Lawson Fletcher, had a very tough schedule. The track schedule of the '39 season was as follows:

- April 1—Dupo here.
 - April 15—*Collinsville and East St. Louis at Granite City.
 - April 21—Edwardsville here.
 - April 29—Conference relays at Granite City.
 - May 5—Belleville here.
 - May 11—East St. Louis juniors here.
 - May 13—District meet at Granite City.
 - May 20—State meet at Champaign.
 - May 27—Conference meet at Wood River.
- *Junior and senior.

Tennis

THE 1938-39 tennis squad, although suffering a few defeats, came through in a very successful season.

Lettermen N. Paul, Bloomer, W. Shea, and H. McFarlane, last year's talent, were augmented by these younger men: namely, G. Millice, L. Clayton, J. Taggart, Vigna, and Doughty.

With such capable men Collinsville came through the season against such teams as East St. Louis, Belleville, Edwardsville, and Granite City, and made creditable showings in the district and conference meets.

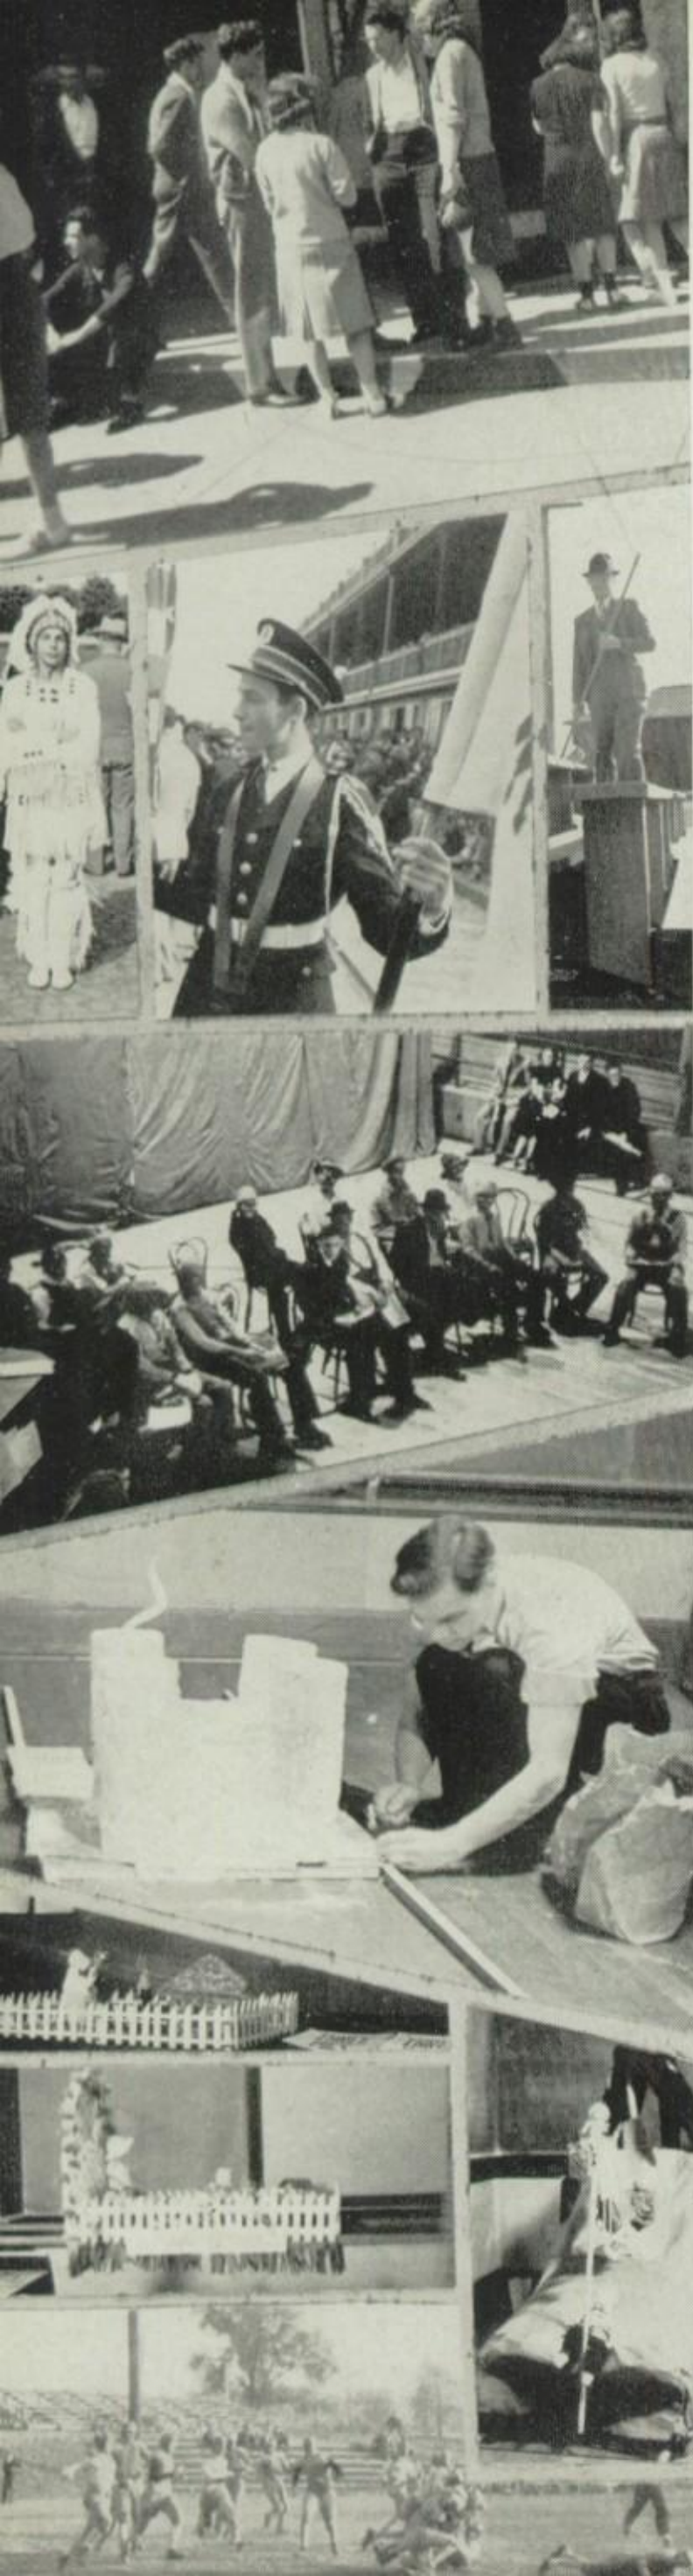

Incidentally, Collinsville has new courts which form a more helpful environment for the boys than they enjoyed last year. The courts were in very good condition after they had been worked on for a while, and the best that Collinsville has had in some time.

The boys have enjoyed a very good season. Under the coaching of Mr. Monroe they have done their best and deserve as many compliments as can be bestowed upon them.

SEPTEMBER

Dear "Keeds,"

September 1

All of the freshmen are rushing hither and thither trying to find their designated places in the scurry of registration.

September 2

Rush continues! More "suckers" are arriving at dear old C. T. H. S., and the green "freshies" are displaying more smiles and less serious contortions.

September 3

Everyone is beginning to feel at home. The various home rooms and clubs are being organized. More headaches for the teachers!

September 7

The Library Club was the first to put its nose to the grindstone by holding its first meeting today.

September 8

School days are once again becoming habitual.

September 23

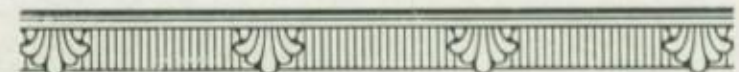

Our students are having a fling at the annual Home Coming.

September 29

Mr. John D. Lippy, Jr., gave an interesting travelogue of the United States, taking us from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific in an hour!

Yours truly,

October 3

Dear "Keeds,"

The Honor Society has decided upon November 15 as the date for their thrilling "Jamboree."

October 4

It was a very exciting day for the freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. They had their pictures taken. Results, one broken camera.

October 7

We play the Wood River Oilers at football tonight.

October 8

The class of '39 has elected Ray Castello as president.

October 14

Test papers, cramming and headaches—reason, the first six weeks has ended.

October 26

Ach! Don't tell me the German Club has had its first meeting already, yet.

October 29

Crowds and crowds of students are swarming about the school to attend the Press Conference.

October 30

The Thespian Society "met 'n et" tonight.

Yours truly,

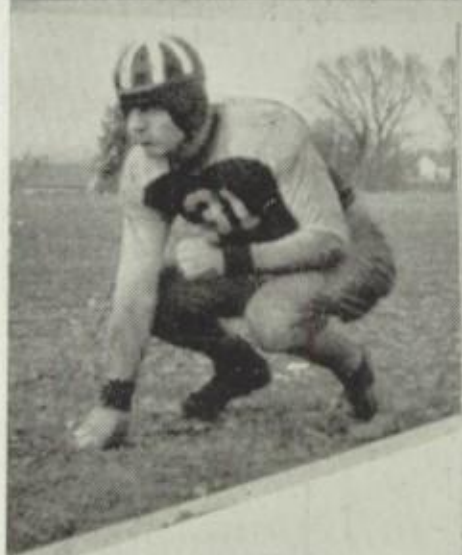

KATY KAHOK

NOVEMBER

Dear "'Keeds,"

November 10

Speeches, plus flags, plus parades equals Armistice Day.

The National Scholastic Press Association Convention in Indianapolis is attended by Miss Doty, Margie Bitzer, Oliver Walker, and Saleska Pederzoli.

November 11

We play Edwardsville tonight. Hold that Tiger!

November 15

The Honor Society Jamboree is booming. Concessions, confetti, and minstrel show. Sho' nuff!

November 23

With much ceremony Miss Irene Jok-erst is crowned football queen. Crowds are standing around admiring the queen and her lovely maids.

The seniors are giving a party in the gym this evening. More fun and pies, too!

November 29

Kahoks win first basketball game over Livingston; score 38-19.

November 30

Last call for senior pictures for the Kahokian. Everyone is having his hair cut or her hair set and dashing madly to the photographers.

December 5

The report cards are here; it can't be helped.

December 6

Kahoks scalp Lebanon, score 41-21.

December 7

The first night of the junior class play, "Spring Fever." Oh! The actresses and actors.

December 9

We defeat Greenville, 39-30.

December 14

An interesting electrical demonstration is given in assembly today. It is "en-lighting."

December 16

We triumph over Belleville, 26-18.

December 17

We defeat the Vandalia Vandals, 31-24.

December 20

The Thespians are having another party tonight. More fun, more food!

December 21

Salem defeats us, 23-35. Luckily it is no conference game.

December 22

A cantata, "Chimes of the Holy Night," is given by the chorus tonight.

December 23

Who said we can't beat Alton? 42-25.

December 24

Christmas vacation begins today. I wonder what Santa will bring.

December 25

Christmas! There will be turkey, presents, candy and, last but not least, soda bicarbonate.

December 30

Marissa defeated by Collinsville, 25-27, and following the game, the annual Homecoming dance.

December 31

Watch hour brings cupid back again. Horns a plenty!

JANUARY

Dear "Keeds,"

January 2

Kahoks outfly East St. Louis, 35-18.

January 3

The "kids" came back to school today and insisted on putting 1938 in the upper right-hand corner.

January 6

Granite City is the unfortunate victim, 35-33.

January 7

The members of the cast of the junior play give a party to celebrate their success.

January 12

The annual telephone company picture shown today. The seniors are confident they understand it now.

January 13

The thirteenth but no "hoo-doo" for us. We score 29 to Wood River's 21

January 19

The aspirins and coffee pot! Semester exams.

January 20

We play Madison tonight.

January 27

What an exciting game! Belleville is defeated 23-21.

January 28

Basketball game with Beaumont. We shall use the proceeds to help pay for our new score board.

Yours truly,

FEBRUARY

Dear "Keeds,"

February 2

The chorus has a party tonight; they will spend the night swinging instead of singing.

February 3

The Kahaks scalp the Alton Hilltoppers, 33-19.

February 7

East St. Louis Flyers defeat us, 30-32. Oh, these conference games!

February 10

Once again a defeat by two points! It was that swell team from Granite City, 29-31.

February 11

Dancing plus games equals sophomore class party.

February 13

Dear "Keeds,"

March 11

The soloists in the band and chorus are chewing finger nails. Contest at Greenfield today.

March 17

The juniors guard their refreshments while they dance at their party.

March 24

Everybody is "trucking" down to the gym for the student council matinee dance.

Our speech winners in the intellectual contest emote at the sub-district to-night.

March 30

Traffic problem solved in assembly today by the State Highway Department.

Stylish "hair-do's" for the girls and red hair for one hero are needed in the play tonight. Seniors are dashing around madly trying to get "formals" and curtains for the setting.

March 31

Dearest Jane!
I hope that you will remember me as a
dear old friend of thine,
But I will always remember you as the nut of

Dear Jane:
We have gone to school
together for nine years and have had lots of fun. I hope we can always have fun.

Love: Esther

Dear Jane,
You're a dope as Mr. Fletcher says but you're lot
of fun and cute, too.
See you next year,

Norma
Lots of Luck
